Data protection

The Center ÜBERLEBEN, operator of these pages, takes the protection of your personal data very seriously. We treat your personal data confidentially and in accordance with the statutory data protection regulations and this privacy policy.

The use of our website is usually possible without providing personal information. If personal data (for example name or email address) is raised, this takes place always only on voluntarily basis. These data will not be disclosed internally or to third parties without your explicit consent.

Please note that data transmission over the Internet (for example, when communicating via email) may have security vulnerabilities. A complete protection of the data from access by third parties is not possible.

Server-Log Files

The provider of the pages automatically collects and stores information in so-called server log files. These are:

- Browser type and browser version
- used operating system
- Referrer URL
- IP address of the accessing device
- Date and time of the server request

These data are deleted at regular intervals. A merge of this data with other data sources will not be done. We reserve the right to check this data retrospectively, if we become aware of specific indications for illegal use.

Contact

If you contact us (via the contact form on the portal page or by email), the information will be stored in order to process the request and in case of follow-up questions. We will not share this information without your consent. We delete the requests, if they are no longer required. We check the necessity on an ongoing basis; furthermore, the statutory retention periods apply.
